

AHRB Network on New Directions in Copyright Law

Workshop on Theme 4: Protection of Traditional Knowledge and Culture

Monday 28th February 2005, 9.30 am

Hosted by Professor Michael Blakeney, Queen Mary Intellectual Property Research Institute, University of London

9.30-10.30	Professor Michael Blakeney Queen Mary Intellectual Property Institute: International Developments in the Protection of Traditional Cultural Expressions
10.30-11.00	Morning Tea
11.00-12.00	Dr Johanna Gibson Queen Mary Intellectual Property Institute: Community and the Exhaustion of Culture: Creative Territories in Traditional Cultural Expressions
12.00-1.00	Daphne Zografos Queen Mary Intellectual Property Institute: Can Geographical Indications be a Viable Alternative for the Protection of Traditional Cultural Expressions?
1.00-2.00	Lunch
2.00-3.00	Dr Jane Anderson Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies & Centre for Folklore and Cultural Heritage, Smithsonian Institution: The Politics of Indigenous Knowledge: Australia's Communal Moral Rights Bill
3.00-3.30	Afternoon Tea
3.30-4.30	Dr Alex Tawanda Magaisa School of Law, University of Nottingham: Knowledge and Power: Legal, Political and Socio-Historical Perspectives on the Protection of Traditional Medical Knowledge Systems in Zimbabwe
4.30-5.30	Professor Martha Woodmansee Case Western Reserve University: The 'Author Function' in Copyright: A Cross Cultural Perspective

Venue: Dawson Hall, The Sir Anthony Dawson Room, Queen Mary Intellectual Property Research Institute, Charterhouse Square, London EC1 (nearest underground: Barbican).

There is no charge for attendance at the Workshop, although numbers are limited. Please RSVP to Ms Valerie Kelley, v.kelley@bbk.ac.uk.

AHRB Copyright Network Website: <http://www.copyright.bbk.ac.uk>